TONIGHT: The 20th Season of Altoona Curve Baseball, presented by Stuckey Subaru, continues at Canal Park in Akron, Ohio against the Akron RubberDucks, Double-A affiliate of the Cleveland Indians in the finale of a four-game series. The Curve are looking to avoid being swept in four games for the first time dropping all four games at Bowie from June 26-29, 2017, which was also the last time the Curve lost four games in a row. The Curve were also swept in four games last season by Akron at home from May 22-25 during a season-worst six-game losing streak. The last four-game sweep in Akron over the Curve game from May 19-22, 2008.

THE CURVE: After taking three-of-four against Akron to open the season, the Curve split a shortened two-game series with Harrisburg at home. They followed with an abbreviated, two-game sweep at Erie. The Curve currently hold a 2.30 team ERA, second-best in the Eastern League. The Curve had not lost back-to-back games this season prior to their current three-game slide.

THE RUBBERDUCKS: After losing three-of-four at Altoona to begin the year, Akron responded with a three-game road sweep at Bowie last week. In their first home series of 2018, Akron was swept in two games by Trenton, with the final scheduled game postponed due to rain on Sunday.
